No Use to Die.

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White of Rushboro, Pa. "I would not be alive to-day only for that wonderful medicine. It loosens up a cough quicker than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless. This most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, influenza, asthma, bronchitis and pneumonia, is sold under guarantee at Red Cross Pharmacy. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free."

Is the Public Just a Great Baby?

In the March American Magazine, Professor W. I. Thomas of Chicago university writes a most interesting article on "The Psychology of the Yellow Journal." He discusses the natural hate attitude in man, the savage instincts of children, pleasurable shocks, our interests in disasters, "playing up" a murder trial, scandal-mongers as reformers, our lost faith in the printed page, and so on. He says:
"The great hold that the yellow journal has on the masses is to be explained by the fact that the popular mind is essentially childish. There has always been in the populace, as in the child, a greedy interest in materials representing the elemental emotions, with no necessary regard to their artistic presentation. Primitive epic and ballad literature, stories of adventure, fable, gossip, and the modern cheap magazine are expressions of interest. Children and the masses love stories and always more stories, and when one is finished, they say, 'Now, tell another.' In this sense, at least, the remark of Dr. Chalmers is true, that 'the public is just a great baby.' In democratic America, with its free schools and immigrants, we have a great population that has really just learned to read, and which, though lettered, is childish, or, that which amounts to the same thing from the psychological standpoint—savage; and to these the yellow journal gives endless stories, both real and make-believe."

RANDOLPH

Miss Mary Du Bois Resigns as Teacher in High School.

Miss Mary Du Bois, who has, in all, taught about twelve years in the Randolph high school, where she has held the position of first assistant, has resigned her position to take effect at the close of the school year. It is a matter of regret to teachers, as well as townspeople, that she finds it necessary to rest for the coming year.

Mrs. S. S. Whitcomb visited her sister, Mrs. Thatcher, who lives at Northfield on Tuesday.

Leon Smith of Boston was in town, the guest of W. S. S. Buck's family on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Mrs. F. H. Joslyn left Thursday for a visit in Winchester, Mass., where she is to be entertained by Mrs. C. J. Allen.

G. W. Boyce of New York is again here in the interest of the granite investigation to be begun soon on the farm of Mrs. Ida Mann.

Dr. and Mrs. Beckman returned Wednesday from several weeks spent in the South, where they went for the benefit of the doctor's health.

Miss Clara Bagley, who has been the guest of Miss Harriet Hayward for several days, returned Wednesday to her home in Keene, N. H.

G. R. Miller is expected here in the near future, and intends to have the plant of the White Cross milk bottling company ready to open about the middle of April.

The first sugar of the season was made by the youngest son of M. T. Holman, he having made two quarts of nice maple syrup doing all the work himself out of school hours.

W. H. Messer left Wednesday for Boston for the purpose of buying millinery goods for the spring season. His trimmer has been studying spring styles for several days.

Mrs. H. H. McIntyre has returned from her visit south of here and is at her brother's, M. H. Miller's, for a few days before returning to Burlington. She will return here about May first and open her house for the summer.

About 650 people attended the production of "Strongheart" at Music hall on Wednesday evening. The special train from the south, starting from Sharon, brought about 100, and 25 or so came from the north on the evening train.

News has been received from Mrs. Herbert Abbey, who underwent an operation at the Charity hospital at Roxbury, Mass., for the removal of a tumor, that she is very low and her husband has gone down here.

J. H. Du Bois has purchased of C. R. Steele his interest in the coal business under the firm name of Vall & Steele and it will hereafter be known as Vall & Du Bois and will have its headquarters in J. H. Du Bois' office over E. A. Thomas' store.

It is expected now that Jesse Flood will occupy the quarters so long under the control of Granville Barnes, and will use it for a restaurant and will also keep a line of candy and confectionery. Mr. Barnes will retire from business as his health is not equal to the effort since his recent illness.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Remember the sugar social and promenade Saturday evening. A good time is assured. All come. Under auspices of the Grange.

Mrs. Van McAllister enjoyed a visit the first of the week from her mother, Mrs. Flanders of Tunbridge, also from a brother-in-law, with whom her mother lives.

The ladies of the town are to give a leap-year ball Tuesday evening. The ladies of the Universalist Society will furnish supper. Music by Gilbertson's orchestra. Full bill $1.25. Dancing from 8 to 3 o'clock.

Dr. Hurley's horse left him by the roadside Thursday when returning to the village. The sleigh caught on something at the side of the road, breaking the runner and throwing the driver out. The horse came through the village at a lively gate and went to the stable where it has been kept. The sleigh was almost a wreck, but no one was injured.

Resolutions.

Whereas, the great and supreme ruler of the universe has in His infinite wisdom removed from among us our worthy and esteemed brother, Wallace M. Hunter, and

Whereas, the long and intimate relations held with him in the arduous discharge of his duties in our order makes it befitting that we record our appreciation of him, therefore,

Resolved, that the removal of our brother from among us leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all members and friends of this organization.

Resolved, that with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased brother, we express our hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled for good by him who directs all things well.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this lodge, a copy printed in Barre Daily Times, and a copy forwarded to the bereaved family.

M. E. Burnham,
M. P. Spencer,
E. P. Rowell,

About Fertilizers.

Farmers cannot do better than invest a cent in a postal card to send to C. S. Page, Hyde Park, Vt., with the words written thereon, "Send fertilizer formula as advertised in the News and Citizen." It will bring them free, postpaid much valuable information about the preparation of home-made fertilizers.

RUSSIANS WAGE WAR

Radical Leader Shot by the Reactionaries

FAMILY OF ONE OF LATTER

Burned by Revolutionists—Smirnov, It

Is Thought, Will Recover—Count Leo Tolstoy Seriously Ill, It Is Reported.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—Dr. Karavai, who was leader of the Group of Toil in the second Duma, was shot to death Wednesday by two men in his home at Kekatechnoslav. A few days ago he received letters from the reactionary organization saying that his death sentence had been signed. On Monday revolutionists at Noshin set fire to the house of M. Volosky, a local leader of the League of the Russian People. M. Volosky was badly burned and all the members of his family perished.

GEN. SMIROFF MAY LIVE.

He Was Shot by General Fock in a Duel Yesterday.

Up to a late hour Wednesday night no operation had been attempted on General Smirnov who was wounded by General Fock Wednesday in a pistol duel. The doctors wish to make further examination with the Roentgen rays before attempting to extract the bullet. They announced, however, that there is no reason for alarm. The patient is cheerful.

TOSTOI SAID TO BE VERY ILL.

His Daughter Says That She Considers Reports Exaggerated.

Reports of the illness of Count Leo Tolstoy have been received at Moscow. It is said that he fainted Wednesday and remained unconscious for a considerable time. He is quite weak as the result of an attack of influenza, and his condition excites alarm. Two physicians have left Moscow for Yasnaya Polyana, where he resides. The count's daughter-in-law is in St. Petersburg. She said yesterday that she had received no notification of her father's illness and that she thought the reports were exaggerated.

COSTLY MATTRESSES.

The Kind That Are Used on the Big Plate Glass Wagons.

Probably about as costly a sort of mattress as any is one that is made not to sleep on at all, but to spread on the long, broad table or platform of the wagons built for carrying plate glass.

These mattresses, which are made of curled hair, are very thin, scarcely thicker than a comfortable, and must be made with the greatest care to insure perfect uniformity of thickness. A lump anywhere would be likely to break the plate of glass resting upon it, and there would be still greater danger if the weight of two plates of glass was rested on the lump at once.

A mattress for a plate glass wagon costs, according to size, from $80 to $75. In use the corners of smaller plates carried on it cut into the ticking covering, and sooner or later it has to be made over. Simply to make over such a mattress costs from $20 to $25.

On the table topped and mattress covered glass wagons the biggest plates are carried with confidence and safety. The table is built to remain absolutely rigid, and the thin but uniform mattress protects the plate from jar.

Before plate-glass store fronts had come into common use, when the handling of a big plate was counted as a good deal more of a job than it is now, they used to carry a great pane of glass in a sort of frame, which was put on the wagon with the glass in it. At its destination this frame or support was worked carefully across the sidewalk to the store front, where the glass was dislodged from it to be set, and altogether the setting of a great plate of glass was then quite an undertaking.

Now, with the setting of such plates a common daily occurrence and with men skilled in the handling of them, they simply carry a big plate out and lay it on their mattress covered table topped wagon and carry it to where it is to go and there slide it off to rest it for a moment on blocks on the sidewalk, and then they pick it up and carry it to the window front.

Then they run under the lower edge of the glass lifting straps, by which men standing inside the window as well as men standing outside can lift on it when the glass is put into place in the window frame. There again it is raised on blocks until the straps can be withdrawn, and then the blocks are taken out and the glass secured in place all this being done with great care, but still with comparative ease and quickness and with certainty, and in these times great panes of glass are thus moved and set on all but the windiest days.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Exercise the Dog.

"Yes," replied Mr. Wyss.

"Will you speak a kind word to Philo and make him wag his tail? He hasn't had one bit of exercise all day."—Lippincott's.

ONE TOUCH OF NATURE.

A Display of Courtesy "In Memory of Old Virginia."

All the seats were taken in the car which I entered one morning in early April. An old colored man sat next the door. It is not often in these days that I see that type of black man. I used to see that kind on the old Virginia plantation, where he was "Ung Lige" or "Ung Sambo" to all the household.

His days were devoted to useful toil and his evenings to his banjo and the old plantation melodies that no one can ever sing again as musically as they were sung then.

"Take this seat, mistis," he said, rising promptly. "Mistis" sounded very "homey" and pleasant to me. It had been so long since I was "mistis" to anybody.

"Thank you, uncle," said I. "Keep your seat. I would just as lief stand."

"Scuse me, please, mistis, but 'tain't fitten for you ter stan'; you mus' set," he admonished respectfully.

I took the seat, thanking him for his courtesy. Soon a departing passenger left a vacancy.

"There is a seat for you," I said to the old man.

"Between the ladies, ma'am?" He hesitated.

"Yes," I said.

He bowed apologetically to right and left and took the vacant place. Just before leaving the car I slipped a silver piece into his hand, saying, "Uncle, get you a nice luncheon with this—in memory of old Virginia."

"Thank you, my mistis," he said, opening his hand to look at the little gift and then closing it. I left the car with a sunnier feeling in my heart because of the chance meeting, but with no thought that I should ever again hear of my old Virginian.

That afternoon I received a bunch of arbutus which had been left for me by an old colored man—"fer the tall lady with a long blue coat an' white hair—in memory of ole Virginia an' dem old time days."—Lippincott's Magazine.

No Room to Breathe.

"You shouldn't run after a car during the rush hour," said the conductor reprovingly.

"Why not?" panted the man.

"The abnormal chest expansion due to the effort to draw into the lungs a sufficient supply of oxygen to repair the waste caused by accelerated heart action crowds the other passengers," explained the conductor.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Flour Mills.

The first successful flour mill was erected in London in 1764.

Bobby's Reason.

Little Bobby was saying his prayers at his mother's knee, but so rapidly that she asked him why he did not speak more slowly.

"Because, you know," he replied, "it would keep all the other children waiting."—Lippincott's.

Painted.

Lady (at railway station, to porter)—Now, porter, are you sure I have all my luggage in the train? Porter—Yes, ma'am. Lady—Nothing left behind? Porter—Nothin' ma'am—not even a copper, ma'am.—London Scraps.

A Good Talker.

"They say her conversational powers are immense."

"Is that so?"

"Yes, sir. They tell me that girl once talked clear through 'Paradise'."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Very Considerate.

"Foot!" exclaimed a fop at his club, throwing down the morning paper. "Jones, you voted for Roosevelt. Won't you admit now that he's made a pretty bad mess of things trying to mix in on Wall street?"

"Well," said Jones, advisedly, "that seems to be the general impression that prevails among the masses."

"I know that," yawned Jones, getting up. "I presume the 'm' merely out of consideration for your feelings."—Everybody's Magazine.
